The responses to the asked question suggest a variety of improvements to the school, ranging from air conditioning to better learning and teaching environments. Additionally, there is a focus on lunch improvements, outdoor time for children, retention of staff, and open lines of communication between administrators and teaching staff. Furthermore, the responses suggest that the 7th and 8th grade should be put back in the middle school, and that a grant writer should be hired to provide financial resources for the district. Finally, the responses suggest that the school should provide a better climate control for classrooms, full lunches for all children, and more care for the students and staff.

Seriously consider air conditioning or some other type of cooling/ventilation for all students.

When students are overheated they cannot concentrate on learning and the task at hand. It isn't fair for some to be cool while others are sweating.

Funding for school heating and cooling needs to be evaluating . The ventilation and air conditioning is horrible and needs to be fixed.

My son has horrible allergies and always seems worse when he gets home from school. Way too hot for kids to think and function.

The school needs central air, students cannot learn at the best of their ability by being hot! Playground needs a handicap swing. HS bathrooms!

Students cannot learn being hot. All schools around us have handicap swings, let's get on that. My HS children are holding their urine so let's fix!

Getting the school's air conditioning.

Student's and staff are not able to do their best when the heat rises and the buildings are too warm.

Air conditioning should already be installed it was voted on and approved. Ward fired every contractor that showed up to do the work!

It's hot in that school. No need for another playground!

We are doing well at filling our building with positive people. We need to keep improving the quality of the education we provide.

Because we are preparing kids for the future and post education.

Continue open lines of communication between administrators & teaching staff.

I have seen more open lines of communication with staff this year! Keep it up! Parents need to take a active roll in their kids education.
